LAWS SHOULD BE MADE BY THE PEOPLE

Roosevelt Says Courts Should

POPULAR GOVERNMENT

Referendum Would Prevent the Violation of the Will of the Majority

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—In a copyrighted article on "Judges and Progress" in the current Outlook, Col.
Theodore Roosevelt urges a referendum law whereby the people may place laws on the statute books which even the courts cannot declare unconstitutional. He says:

"I am speaking of the peculiar function of the American judge of declaring whether the people have the right to make laws for themselves, and whereby one man is able to nullify the wishes of a majority of his fellow citizens. I hold that if a majority would champion certain social or economic reforms, they have the right to see them enacted into law. I see an advantage in the power to state that a legislative act is unconstitutional, provided that power is exercised wisely. I earnestly hope to see the next New York constitutional convention incorporate provisions in the constitution enabling the people to decide by popular ballot without appeal, what the law of the land shall be.

"Let the state courts first decide.
Such decisions carry weight. The people will not overturn them wantonly, but the people should have the right in any given case to vote whether the court's decision is binding or not. Provision should be made that such vote cannot be taken within six months of the decision, then the result to be binding on all state judges, unless the national supreme court acts. The people ultimately must have the right to decide for themselves. I hold with Lincoln that we are unfit to be called a free people if we permanently surrender the right to shape our des-tines and place them in the hands of men not responsible to us. What I advocate is not revolutionism or wild radicalism. It is the highest and wisest of conservatism."

ROOSEVELT WILL NOT HAVE
PRIVACY OF HOME INVADIED

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Denying that he is a candidate for the presidency, Col. Roosevelt appeared in his offices today for the first time in several days. When asked regarding the Abbot article which stated that Roosevelt was doing all in his power to prevent his name being used in connection with the political situation, he replied:

"I haven't read it. Nothing to say."
He declared he wished the editors of newspapers would cease sending reporters to interview him.

"It is an injustice to these men,"
he said, "and I won't have the privacy of my home invaded."

GOVERNMENT, CITY AND STATE TO ACT

All to Co-Operate in Prosecution in Cases of Sales of Russian Girls

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5.—The Federal, State and city authorities cooperating, have begun an investigation of the conditions of the Russian colony to place the responsibility for the sale of Russian girls. They have determined on prosecution and will attempt to prove that the purchasers came to America for immoral purposes. If successful, deportation will follow.

If possible, the Federal authorities will prosecute on other charges. The city is threatening to prosecute ministers celebrating such marriages.

ing him to appear before the commit-

1911 Year of Big Increase in Business

Figures better than anything else show the strides taken forward in 1911 by Orange county, as a county, and Santa Ana as a city. The business of the county offices has increased at a tremendous rate. Take the work of the office of County Recorder Peters as an instance.

In 1910 the recorder's office took in $12,379.15 in fees.
In 1911 the fees shot upward
$3,163.35, making the total $15, 482.50.

The receipts for the Santa Ana postoffice show a big gain.
For instance, the postal receipts for December, 1911, total $4,490.46 as against $3,968.28 for December, 1910, an increase of $522.18 in favor of 1911.

HITCHCOCK SPOKE AGAINST TREATIES

Declare Treaties Would Cause
This Nation Trouble and Humiliation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—That the Taft arbitration treaties are a direct attempt to entangle America and Great Britain, was the declaration of Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, before the Senate. He charged the existence of a fund to secure the enactment of the treaties.

Hitchcock quoted Sir Edward Gray's recent speech in which Gray predicted trouble through the treaties, and then said:

"It is hard to escape the consequences when a third nation objects to a treaty, and as a result England, America and Germany will surely become embroiled should the treaties be passed. American diplomacy would also suffer further humiliation."

DARING HOLD-UP OF S.P. MAIL CAR TODAY

Two Thugs Boarded S. P.
Train at Red Bluff and Got Away With $1000

BOUND AND GAGGED THE TRIO OF MAIL CLERKS

Actions Indicate Robbers Were Familiar With Details
of Mail Service

REDDING, Jan. 5.—Two highway-men held up and robbed the mail car on Southern Pacific No. 16, between Redding and Red Bluff at daylight.
They bound and gagged the three mail clerks, then rifled the registered mail, securing $1000. They escaped, but posses are in pursuit.

Six pouches were rifled. One clerk was forced at the point of a gun to bind the other clerks with the mail bag ropes. The bandits boarded the train at Red Bluff. As the train passed Cottonwood and Anderson the bandits dropped the mail bags consigned there. This leads the authorities to believe they were familiar with the mail service.

When the train arrived at Redding the mail clerks were still bound and lying facing the wall, to prevent them from seeing when the bandits left the train. However, the clerks are confident they left the train as it was entering Redding.

TRAIN HAD IMPORTANT MAIL
FROM SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—The Redding robbers entered the train at Red Bluff, according to the report of Mail Clerk Rhein, wired here.
They overcame Clerks Charles J.
Ryan, Robert B. Warner and Peter Kenrich.

The train left San Francisco last night at 8:20 o'clock carrying the most important mails of the day, including much from Southern California. Inspectors were dispatched to the scene.

RICHESON SAID TO RAVE IN CELL

Became Violent Today—Negro Cellmate Overpowered
Him During Spasm

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—It is reported that Rev. C. V. T. Richeson is raving in his cell. Attendants confirm the reports that he screams incoherently, the names of Avis Linnell and Violet Edmonds being all that is distinguishable. In his lucid moments he conversed with his negro cellmate.

The first symptoms of violence came while conversing with his attorney today. He leaped to his feet, screaming that he was the victim of a police plot. His negro cellmate threw him on a cot, and held him there until the spasm passed.

Condition Is Critical BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Despite his attorneys' statements that Rev. Richeson is improving, it leaked out yesterday that his condition is worse, and that he probably will be unable to go to trial on Jan. 15. An intimate friend visited him in jail, and when leaving declared that Richeson was in a mental and physical collapse.

NEW YORK SUFFERING

The executive committee of the women's council, composed of delegates from all the leading women's clubs of the city, have accepted the invitation.

DECISION IS AGAINST LOCAL IRRIGATIONISTS

Judge Conrey Decides Users Have Right to Take Waters to Remote Lands—Keech Thinks Precedent Dangerous

In the superior court of Los Angeles yesterday, Judge Conrey decided in favor of the defendants in the suit brought by the Santa Ana River Development Co., the holding company of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Co., and the Anaheim Union Water Co., against alleged non-riparian users in the Lytle Creek and Temescal creek regions.

This suit was brought to determine the water rights up the Santa Ana canyon in relation to a number of companies and individuals who were pumping water at points near the river.
Thus water percolating toward the river was taken to lands where the return to the river, which is the supply for the plaintiff companies, would be slow and only a small percentage would return.

"The case involves a very dangerous precedent for the two Orange county water companies," said Attorney Keech, one of the attorneys for the plaintiffs. "The danger does not lie so much in the amount of water these defendants may divert as it does in the precedent. If the law allows a party to pump from the ground at a point near the river, tapping our natural supply, and to take that water to lands remote, then we are in danger."

"Judge Conrey appears to have met the points at issue fairly and frankly, and has fairly decided against us on points of law. I think that his decision is adverse to decisions of the state supreme court, and I think that if the case is taken into the supreme court the decision of Judge Conrey will be reversed. As yet I haven't read the decision, having only seen the newspaper reports of it.

"There was a difference in the points involved in the trial as it concerned those taking from Lytle creek and those taking from near Temescal creek. At Lytle creek the wells were sunk almost in the bed of the creek and went very deep. As I understand the decision, the court holds that they reached a flow not affected by the surface waters. At Temescal creek, the water was pumped from near the creek, and taken to remote lands."

This case was begun in this county in 1910, was transferred to Los Angeles and tried there, taking forty-two days for trial, and eight days for argument. The case was submitted in September.

The Los Angeles Times this morning says:

"In deciding for the defendants in the water suit brought by the Santa Ana River Development Company,
the Anaheim Union Water Company and the Santa Ana Valley Company against various mutual water companies and ranchmen to restrain them from taking water from wells located near the upper region of the Santa Ana river, and from diverting the water to non-riparian lands, Judge Conrey brought joy yesterday to a district comprising 20,000 acres.

"This suit, which was instituted May 9 last, was strenuously fought for forty days by a galaxy of lawyers, consisting of John D. Pope, A.
W. Hutton of Los Angeles, and E. E.
Keech of Santa Ana, representing the plaintiffs, and Hunsaker & Britt, James G. Scarborough and Walter F.
Haas of Los Angeles; Leonard & Surr and Curtice of San Bernardino, and Joseph Freeman of Corona.

"The defendants used the water for irrigating fine citrus land in the vicinity of Rialto, Bloomington, Riverside and Corona. They asserted they had the use of this water under the old riparian rights and by the right of appropriation. The plaintiffs sought to restrain them from taking certain waters alleged to be above the lands of the plaintiffs and using them on non-riparian lands.

"Judge Conrey held first that the defendants are not taking water from the surface flow nor from the sub-flow of the river or its tributaries. The water taken is directly in the lands where the wells are located and is a part of the source of the stream; it is within the watershed of the river and is tending toward

IRISHMEN OPPOSE HOME RULE PLAN

Monster Mass Meeting Protest Against Parting Ireland
From Great Britain

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—A gigantic mass meeting at Omagh, County Tyrone, passed resolutions protesting against efforts to separate Ireland and Great Britain through home rule. Eight-teen special trains conveyed the Ulstermen.

Sir Edward Carson, the Orange faction parliamentary leader, said:
"If my determination to prevent separation is treason, then I am a traitor."

The land of the defendants using the water is within the watershed of the Santa Ana river and the surplus water in such land also tends toward the river channel, although the land itself is non-riparian.

"The general end of the system of water development within the valley of the river, the court held, has been and still is beneficial, also a portion of the river by increasing its flow during the regular season, and the capacity of the river for such beneficial development has not yet become exhausted.

"The taking of this water by the defendants, Judge Conrey held, has not been a cause of any injury to the plaintiffs, and the defendants in making such diversion have not exhausted their rights. The owners of lands containing percolating water which is tending toward the river or its tributaries where the water has not yet attached itself to the surface or sub-flow of the stream but is merely within the valley of the river and a part of its general source of supply, are entitled to use such water upon other lands which are non-riparian, provided such non-riparian lands are within the watershed of the river.

"The plaintiffs are not entitled to an injunction, the court decided, and a decree was entered in favor of the defendants.

"George H. Ennis, president of the Sunny Slope Land Company, stated yesterday that the decision is of great import to that section, which has been using the water, and settles an issue that has caused considerable bitterness and uneasiness."

The Tribune says:
"The decision will be of interest to water companies and consumers along the entire length of the river as well as along its tributaries. The case was transferred to Los Angeles
from Orange county and the trial, begun May 9, 1911, lasted five months.

Among the defendants were the Citizens Land & Water Company of Bloomington, the Mount Vernon Water Company and the Mutual Land & Water Company of Rialto, which were supplied from near Lytle creek, a tributary of the Santa Ana; and the Sunny Slope Land Company, located below Colton, in the Riverside basin and twenty miles above the lands of the development company.
Other defendants, designated as the Long group and the Hazard group, were located near Corona, about three miles above the development company's property.

"It had not been sufficiently shown,
says Judge Conrey, that the defendants, by any of these wells, are taking water from the flow or sub-flow of Lytle creek. The water of these wells came from the lower strata, deep down in the ground, and did not rise and fall in harmony with the surface of that stream. As to the defendants below Lytle creek, the evidence, he says, showed that the waters taken by the defendants are percolating waters, and in connection with this phase of the controversy he adds:

Not Part of Stream

"I am confident that it is the law that water lost from the surface stream by diversion and which has become percolating water, drifting back toward the stream should not be regarded as having become a part of the stream until it has actually become so or has become a part of a body of water actually and distinctly connected with the stream. If the mere fact that the water in one's land is slowly tending toward the channel of a river will prevent its owner from using the waters upon the land where the unused surplus will also be tending toward the same river, then we must admit that the long established rights of land owners to mere percolating water within the soil have been substantially destroyed."

CHARGED WITH HORSE THEFT

Man Arrested Said to Have Been Member of Gang That Operated Here

Officers of this county are interested in the arrest yesterday in Los Angeles of Claude Reynolds, alias Grant, said to have been a member of the Gerdin Horton gang, of horse thieves. Theo. Lacy, former sheriff, stated today that no evidence was ever secured in this county against the gang, yet a good many missing horses were credited to the gang.

"I am confident," said Lacy, "that the gang stole eight head of horses from Macomber's pasture at Northam. At that time the officers searched the Santa Ana mountains for tracks of the thieves."

The Los Angeles Herald says: "Claude Reynolds, alias Claude Grant, suspected of being a famous outlaw, a member of the Gerdin Horton band of horse thieves which eight years ago terrorized the ranchers of Southern California, was arrested this morning at the Southern Pacific shops and lodged in the county jail on the old charge, from which he has been a fugitive from justice, according to belief of the officers, for seven years."

"Reynolds was working as a boiler-man, but had not been long employed. Deputies Wright, Woods, Sepulveda and Reynolds made the arrest. "Sepulveda recognized Reynolds' wife a few days ago when she was shopping at Second and Spring streets, and, following her, located her place of residence. It was discovered that Reynolds was working at the Southern Pacific shops."

Horton Sent to Prison
"Of the old gang, Gerdin Horton was arrested and sent to the penitentiary. Reynolds, it is alleged, eluded pursuit and escaped to Panama. Later he was traced to Nashville and St. Louis. There he was once arrested on suspicion, but convinced the officers that it was a case of mistaken identity. He left St. Louis and went to Canada, and there disappeared until he was accidentally discovered here."

"The operations of the gang covered the O'Neill ranches and the Irvine ranches, as well as many in the Perris valley and about Elsinore. Several raids were said to have been made through the San Joaquin and Antelope valleys. The old horse thief trail of the Santa Ana range was said to have been broken over the shoulders of old Saddleback by these gangs."

LONG BEACH WOULD RETAIN SUGAR DUTY

Appoints Committee to Take Matter Up With Solons in Washington

LONG BEACH, Jan. 5.—Strong resolutions were adopted by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce here yesterday morning protesting against removing the duty on sugar. The directors placed themselves on record for the protection of the Southern California industry.

The matter was brought to the attention of the directors by George H. Bixby, one of the largest growers of sugar beets in L. A. County, who said that with the present duty retained the industry would be enabled with-

Talks on Tailoring

We are determined that no man or boy in this town shall fail to be well-dressed at a moderate cost because of any failure on our part to keep constantly before him the fact that getting his clothes from us will insure him against such failure.

By the way—speaking of failure,—do you know that many a business and professional failure is due to shabby or ill-fitting clothes? Its a fact. Appearance counts for much in business, and clothes count for much in appearance. Many a man has failed to get the desired and desirable situation, or to put through the big deal or to secure the one important client or patient or patron because his clothes were not right and therefore gave him a sloppy, slouchy appearance. This failure discouraged him and he gave up and fell behind in the race of life.

A man who dresses well adds to his own self-respect and ambition and more readily and surely commands the attention and respect of the community in which he lives.

You will be well dressed if we make your clothes—and at a moderate cost, too.

All work and materials guaranteed in every respect.

He said sugar mills recently had been started in Orange County, and that the industry was assuming large proportions. On the adoption of the resolution, Messrs. FINDS CACTUS GROWS WELL

Anaheim Man Has Twenty Varieties of the Spineless For Stock Food

ANAHEIM, Jan. 5.—Spineless cactus is being grown successfully by E. V. Whittlesey on his ranch, three miles southwest of Anaheim. He has growing twenty varieties of the native plant and seven Burbanks. He has been more successful with his native variety than he has with the Burbank. The Mexican plant has no spines whatever and those of Burbank's have some spines when the plant is young and many others have this same growth at first, but out-grow it.

At two years, the plant reaches the height of four feet. Mr. Whittlesey also has some plants 3 years old that are bearing fruit abundantly. He started to raise the product as an experiment and states that the fruit differs in the same way as the apples and pears do. With little irrigation the plant will produce fruit to the amount of ten to twenty tons to the acre. There is some demand for these cactus apples. They are sold for $1 a box of thirty pounds. They weigh about three to a pound.

The spineless cactus leaves are food for stock and poultry, answering the same purpose as the pie melon on which is fed to stock. Stock soon learn to eat it and the product never gets out of season, as it is grown all the year, and frost does not damage it. The product is grown without any expense after the planting. The soil where the product is grown is quite sandy, and without irrigation it grows rapidly.

MOST SEVERE COLD IS EASILY BROKEN

Surely Cures a Cold and Ends Grippe Misery in a Few Hours

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach, limbs or any part of the body.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects, as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

GAS COMPANY IN CONFERENCE

Fullerton Trustees Hear Corporation's Side—Consider Water and Sewer

Fullerton News: The Board of Trustees met on Tuesday evening and transacted the monthly business of the city, all members being present.

Representatives of the Southern Counties Gas Co. were present to consult with the trustees regarding the conference held with Anaheim, Orange and Fullerton city trustees in an effort to reduce the price of gas to $1 per 1000 cubic feet. President Hinsdale, of the gas company, spoke at some length regarding the matter, explaining many things in connection with their business and asked for cooperation in considering the matter of gas rates, inspection of gas meters and other matters connected with the supplying of gas to the people of Fullerton. No definite action was taken by the board.

Mr. Holcomb appeared with a petition asking that the A. U. W. Co. pipe line, now being laid along West Commonwealth, be laid along certain lines, which after being discussed at some length was settled satisfactorily to Mr. Holcomb, provided the water company was agreeable.

Mr. Stone, a representative of the Mining and Irrigating Engineering Co. of San Francisco, appeared before the board on a matter of municipal water and sewer proposition, which he placed before the board in a plain and practical manner at some length. The matter was deferred until next Monday night for further discussion, pending some legal points that will have to be looked up regarding the forming of water and sewer districts, and perhaps some action will be taken at that time looking toward better sewerage for this city, which is sadly needed.

NEW YORK TO HAVE LIMITED CONTROL

Monetary Commission Plans to Divide Control of Reserve Association

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Monetary Commission's plan for a national reserve association when it goes to congress on Tuesday will provide for an organization so constituted that the financial institutions of New York would control less than 10 per cent of the total representation in the central association, although they possess fully 30 per cent of the banking capital.

This will be done to guard against so-called Wall Street control of the proposed institution which would largely supplant the United States treasury and perform the functions of a national financial agent.

The South, with about 10 per cent of the banking resources of the country, would control 23 per cent of the representation in the reserve association.

One Quarter in the West
New England, with 12 per cent of the banking capital, would have 8 per cent; the Middle West, with 25 per cent, and the Far Western and Pacific states, with about 13 per cent of the banking capital, approximately 25 per cent.

By prescribing such a method of organization, it is expected to remove completely the possibility of control of the reserve association by any single group of men.

Fifteen branch associations are provided for—one in New England, two in the eastern states, four in the south, four in the Middle West and four in the far west. To control the reserve association it would be necessary to control a majority of the branches. This is considered impossible.

Interholding Barred
It has been proposed that ownership of bank stocks by other banks be prohibited, and that any bank that is a member of the reserve association be forbidden to own stock in another bank. It also has been proposed that when a bank acquires stock control in another bank it be prohibited from voting that stock in the main organization.

Much study on the part of the commission has failed to suggest any provision that would be impossible of evasion; but if any working plan of defeating interholdings of stocks can be devised, it will find a place in the commission's report.

Number of Pieces of Property
Have Changed Hands
Recently

EL MODENA, Jan. 5.—G. W. Kelly, who owned the Hoyt-Nichols ranch, one and one-half miles northeast of El Modena, has sold to J. S. Richards of Orange.

Geo. W. Stinchfield has disposed of the Thos. Nicholson ranch 2 miles northeast, to Mr. Wheeler of Orange, taking some property in Orange as part payment. Mr. Stinchfield has bought the John T. Carpenter ranch toward Olive, which he intends to improve and make his home.

The new year caused some moves. Mr. Main goes to the McCollum property south of the church, and Mr. Hockett now occupies the Lent home.

John Hockett of Santa Monica has purchased the Jessup home.

A new electric power line is being put in to the Hewes ranch. The juice will be used to pump from the new well south of McPherson, and also to light the packing-house and other buildings.

This brings the electric light problem to within one-half mile of El Modena. The system will doubtless soon be extended to the schoolhouse, church, stores and residences, and thus supply these enterprising people with another of the up-to-date conveniences. Another feature that indicates the enterprise of the foothill section is the establishing of a meat market. Messrs. Hobson and Schultz have the building almost completed and will supply the best of meats according to city methods. M. S. Davis has sold to Chas. M. Scott of Orange seven lots on North Alameda street.

W. M. Durham has leased his ranch southwest of Santa Ana, and purchased from Walter Helwig the 10-acre ranch one-half mile east of here. Mr. Durham knows this section thoroughly, and will again make it his home.

Mr. Helwig is moving to property occupied by Mr. McEathern, but is undecided yet as to where he will locate permanently.

For several years I was troubled by a weak and painful back. If I did any lifting or overwork, I suffered from sharp twinges through my loins. WHY THE INDUSTRIAL BOARD NEEDS MONEY FOR PUBLICITY

Reactionary newspapers are again practicing their old tricks in an effort to arouse a public sentiment against California's progressive State administration. They scoff at the thought of the Industrial Accident Board spending $15,000 for publicity purposes. The professed object, they assert, is to explain a law which speaks for itself, but the real object, they add, is to provide jobs for a few more "patriots."

No one who depends on reactionary newspapers for information is given even a glimpse of the truth. The appropriation over which all the hullabaloo is raised is intended, primarily to meet the bills incident to the gathering of statistics of industrial accidents, and, secondly, to give those statistics wide circulation and to circulate pamphlets advising employers and employees as to the best way to guard against preventable industrial accidents. Another point that the reactionary press studiously overlooks is that the present law providing for compensation for industrial accidents is not compulsory. Employers may or may not avail themselves of its provisions. Only by a presentation of facts and figures can they be convinced that it is to the interest of all concerned for them to accept the optional plan for the settlement of damage claims. This is why the Industrial Board wants to gather statistics and to give those statistics more than the publicity afforded by an ordinary official report. The truth about that $15,000 is plain and convincing, which, no doubt, is the very reason why the reactionary press is taking great pains to misrepresent the facts.

JOLT FROM MICHIGAN

Our chief objection to Governor Chase Osborn's advice to Senator La Follette is that he is too invidious, too limited in his survey. In suggesting to the Wisconsin candidate for the Republican presidential nomination that he retire from the race in favor of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, or former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, the Wolverine executive confines the insurgent La Follette too closely. Give him a wider scope. There are others. We should like to see Associate Justice Hughes included—the one man who can harmonize all the warring elements in the party.

This gratuitous advice to the Badger candidate was tendered in rather a spectacular way. The governor of Michigan was invited to greet the Wisconsin senator at Lansing yesterday, when a meeting of progressive Republicans was billed to hear the distinguished visitor from the neighboring state define his working platform. Whether or not the astute Robert had a hint of what was in store for him and discreetly sidestepped can be only surmised, at any rate he failed to keep his engagement. Not wishing to withhold a good thing Governor Osborn took charge of the meeting and delivered an address that he had prepared to introduce the senator.

In effect, it was a pretty caustic arraignment of the insurgent leader who was accused by the governor of cannily espousing those measures that were least harmful to himself; that his campaign was calculated to arouse the passions and make for a condition of public intolerance worse than personal or individual intolerance because it has so much more force. The governor pointed out that neither in his speeches nor in his writings does Senator La Follette distinguish between honest men in big business and dishonest men; that we must have big business in this country if we are to compete in the manufactures and transactions of the world.

This is an eminently sane observation. Of course, as the governor declares, big business should not be permitted to oppress the people and in La Follette's efforts to discourage that sort of thing he has done excellent work. We agree with Governor Chase that La Follette can do more good for his country in the United States senate than in the White House. We agree with the Michigan executive that neither La Follette nor Taft, if either was nominated, can be elected and in moving that both withdraw from the race we heartily second the motion.—Pasadena News.

FATTEST MAN IN WORLD FOUND DEAD

"Baby" Bliss, 575 Pounds, Asphyxiated in Home By Escaping Gas

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 5.—Leonard Bliss, Bloomington's famous fat man, known the world over as "Baby Bliss," was found dead at his home yesterday afternoon. Recently his mother was removed to a hospital for treatment and since then he has been living alone. Neighbors missed him, his door was forced in by the police and his dead body found. Bliss was seated in a mammoth chair out of his own manufacture, in front of a gas stove. The coals had been accidentally turned on and death resulted from asphyxiation. There is a theory that he committed suicide, but this is scouted by his friends, as he was never known to be despondent.

Bliss weighed 575 pounds and was probably the heaviest man in the world. He was 45 years of age and became prominent for his avoirdupois when a lad of 12.

THE TRUE MEANING OF CONSERVATION

(By Former Governor Pardee)

Conservation was the theme discussed at the session of the California Country Life Committee held recently in Superior Court room No. 3, in conjunction with the California Teachers' Association meeting.

Dr. George C. Pardee of Oakland, ex-Governor of California and chairman of the Conservation Commission, delivered an address on the subject, "What Is Conservation?"

The speaker very plainly outlined what the great movement is for and the urgent necessity of prompt action to bring about the conservation of the state's natural resources.

He spoke in part as follows: "Every person, every man, woman and child in this country, and especially citizens of California, has a direct and personal, a dollars and cents, interest in the conservation of our natural resources. For all our natural resources that have not yet fallen into private ownership belong to all the people.

"Nobody in America would, I think, advocate that all the land in any state should be owned by a very few men. Yet one man has been permitted to acquire more than 1,000,000 acres of land in this state—a quantity so large that if 100 other men each owned a like area, all the land in this state, city and country, would belong to 101 men out of our population of two and one-quarter millions.

As to the Coal Trust
"All the coal in this country was once the property of all the people. In not a few parts of the country, all the coal has been given away and has been gathered into the control of great monopolies. Every winter, therefore, we hear of distress among those who once owned all the coal, because those to whom it was given advance the price of coal so high that many of its former owners cannot buy it.

"We of California, paying from $10 to $15 a ton for coal, know what it means to be in the hands of a coal trust.

"It is not true that the price of coal in this state or in the east is raised because there is a natural deficiency in the amount of coal that can be mined. The reason for the small supply and the consequent high prices is that those to whom we gave the coal have so monopolized it that, by leaving some of the mines unused, they are able to cause an artificial coal famine and force from those who gave it away all their necessities compel them to pay for it.

"There is, for instance, a comparatively large amount of fairly good coal in this state, in Monterey county. This coal lies idle because those who now own it can make more money by allowing it to lie idle and unused than by mining it.

"There is coal in large quantities in New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming and Washington. Most, if not all, of these coals have been given away into private ownership.

At Mercy of Trust
"The people, therefore, by giving away their coal properties, have put themselves at the mercy of those to whom they gave it. And, preying upon the necessities of their beneficiaries, the beneficiaries extort from their benefactors all the coal traffic will bear. It detracts nothing from the burdens and hardships of the beneficiaries to say that the beneficiaries are acting in a perfectly natural and human manner. And no great personal fault may be found with the present owners of the coal. The methods they are pursuing are 'business' methods. "There are large quantities of coal in Alaska. That coal, unmonopolized and properly mined for the benefit of its present owners, the people, would break the coal monopoly on the Pacific Coast. Is there any wonder, then, that the most strenuous efforts have been made to get private ownership of that Alaska coal? Luckily, however, up to date, those efforts have been happily frustrated. Mr. Morgan's success in various monopolistic fields has cost the people of the country enormous sums of money; and Mr. Guggenheim's smelter trust has laid a whole nation under tribute.

Conservationists' Demand
"The conservationists demand that all the natural resources of the country shall be used in such quantities and at such times as will best serve the needs of the people. They object very strenuously to having those natural resources monopolized, unnecessarily wasted or destroyed, or used primarily for the creating of enormous private fortunes at the expense of the owners of those natural resources, the people.

"The conservationists, therefore, are wroth when they remember that for every ton of coal that has been mined and used in this country, at least another ton has been abandoned in the mine and lost, not because that abandoned ton could not have been mined and saved at a profit, but because more money could be made by mining one ton and abandoning another.

As to Timber Land

"The man who owns those 1,000,000 acres of California land acquired them and is acquiring more all the time, because they are heavily timbered and the price of timber is rapidly advancing. The reason for the rapid advance in the price of timber is two-fold: First, because most of the timber that we have given away has been destroyed; and, second, because a large part of that which remains in private ownership is being held in cold storage, as most of the supply is being held, in order that the supply becoming steadily less, the price of that which is in cold storage, like the price of cold storage coal and spring chickens, may also advance 'pari passu' with the destruction of the timber which is not being cold stored in private ownership.

"The million-acre man stoutly maintains that because he is keeping his million acres in cold storage, safe from the ax, he is conserving his timber. He is not conserving it; he is simply preserving it, not for the benefit of its former owners, the people, but for the benefit of his heirs, successors or assigns.

"It is a well known fact that a forest that is scientifically logged will produce lumber forever. Privately owned forests have been universally destroyed.

"California, only a few years ago, bought at high prices, of course, a way for practically nothing. New York state has spent several million dollars and purposes spending other millions to buy back, at high prices, of course, forests that she gave away for practically nothing, but upon the conservation and preservation of which, she now sees, the welfare of her people depends.

"What sense is there in a people, supposedly intelligent, continuing to give away or to permit the destruction of, or even the cold storing of things like the forests, which may be conserved forever to serve the purposes of man, but the destruction of which brings so many unnecessary hardships and injuries in its wake?

As to Power
"Power, I think you will agree with me, is a very necessary instrument of present day human progress. Deprive this nation of its steam and electric power and our people will starve to death in a few weeks.

"The cheapest and most efficient source of power is falling water. All the falling water in this state always has been, is now and always will be the property of the people of the state. But no sooner did California become a state than her people began to permit those who wanted to do so to appropriate, for nothing and forever, the use of that falling water, and to make private property of that use.

"The result, very naturally and very humanly, has been that the most accessible and cheapest developable water powers in this state have become private property.

"A power company invests a million dollars in a power plant. On that investment it should have, of course, reasonable, even handsome returns. But the company, very naturally and very humanly, is not satisfied with that. It says: 'Besides our investment of one million dollars we have a water power that is worth another million dollars, although the people gave it to us for nothing, worth a million dollars, because we can compel the people, who gave it away for nothing, to pay us returns on the million dollars' valuation we put on it. On that million dollars worth of water power, as well as on the million dollars we have actually invested in our plant, we demand returns.' And then the public, owning the water, is compelled to pay heavily for the privilege of enjoying the use of the products turned out by the use of its own water.

In Cold Storage
"But this is not all. For, on the stream above or below the company's plant, or on another stream in the neighborhood, there are other places where, by using the falling water belonging to the people, more power can be developed and used in competition with the products of the first company. To prevent this competition and enable it to charge all the traffic will bear, the company, very naturally and very humanly, appropriates, for nothing, these other water powers and puts them into cold storage, neither using them itself nor permitting any one else to use them.

"That there are artificial monopolies in electric power in this state goes without saying. To deny that some of those monopolies are oppressive is to deny that human nature is human nature and to assert that the managers of them are professing Christians of the most advanced and the most liberal type. To deny that these smaller monopolies are in process of being combined into one great and still more oppressive monopoly is as foolish as it would be to deny that one great and far more oppressive monopoly has taken the places of the several smaller and less oppressive railroad monopolies that formerly did our transportation business.

Governor Johnson's Work
"Governor Johnson and the last legislature, recognizing that it is foolish for anybody to continue to give away that which has been used to his detriment, passed a law prohibiting any further giving away of the use of the people's falling water. By this means, a power monopoly will be forever prevented in this state; provided, always, that this law be not emasculated or repealed by the courts or the legislature—for it will never be emasculated or repealed by the people of California.

"The anti-conservationists—those who for one personal reason or another, either of employment or opportunity, want to see a continuation of the people's free giving of all they have in common—the anti-conservationists object to conservation, and say that because we have been foolish, we ought to continue to be foolish.

"The anti-conservationists insist that, instead of ceasing to give away that which is ours, we should continue to give it away and pin our faith on so regulating the use of the gifts that we may no longer be pillaged by means of those gifts.

A Hard Fight
"We have been trying for a long time to regulate a lot of things. The courts' control and foolish legislatures have, however, pretty thoroughly frustrated all our attempts—municipal, state and national—to regulate effectively very many of the things we have been trying to regulate. Even though we have the recall of the Judges and the legislature in this state, there are not a few people who firmly believe that it is safer, saner and surer to regulate our gifts by keeping possession of them ourselves, than by giving them away and then fighting the new owners, the courts and the legislature to keep ourselves from being pillaged.

"Private property should, of course, be protected. So should public property. The public guards private property and private rights very jealously. Why should not the public guard equally jealously its own rights and its own property? The wasting of the rights and property of the public inflicts injury upon everybody, the present as well as future generations.

"The anti-conservationists say that this kind of talk is socialist, communistic, agrarian, anarchistic, and things like that. Maybe so. But if it be all or any of these things, it is akin to that socialism, communism, agrarianism and anarchism that inspired the people of Los Angeles to resolve to rescue themselves from the clutches of a private water company. If this sort of talk be socialist, comis akin to that socialism, communism, agrarianism and anarchism which are making the dirt fly down there at the isthmus of Panama; it is akin to that socialism, communism, agrarianism and anarchism which American cities, states and the nation are slowly learning it pays them in every way to practice.

Conservationists' Position

"The conservationists are not making war on individuals. The only use the conservationists have for predatory millionaires is to use a few of them as horrible examples, or to point a moral or adorn a tale. The conservationists would not, even if they could, take from anybody anything that really belongs to him. The conservationists war, not on individuals who have grown enormously wealthy through monopolizing, wasting, destroying or cold storing the natural resources of this country, which their former owners, the people, gave away or have permitted to be stolen. Our warfare is against the system which has made possible, fashionable and profitable that monopoly, that wasting, that destroying, that cold storing. We have no time to waste on individuals. We are quite busy enough trying to change the system, to the end that a halt may be called before all the natural resources of the country have been given away, monopolized, wasted, destroyed or cold stored.

"Remember that conservation means use, USE, now and in the future, without unnecessary waste or destruction, without monopoly, without cold storing; while private ownership of the natural resources means, always has meant and always will mean, unnecessary waste and destruction and cold storing of these natural resources. That means, of course, only such a limited use of those natural resources by the people, their former owners, as the very natural and very human greed of their private owners directs shall be made of them.

"Is there, can there be, any doubt, then, that conservation of the natural resources of the country means to the citizen the difference between using, at low prices and in sufficient quantities, instead of at high prices and in meagre quantities, the prime necessities of civilization, and that the citizen, therefore, has a direct, a personal and a financial interest in the conservation of our and his natural resources?"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The sum of $50,000 to repulse the invasion of the Mediterranean fruit fly is asked in a bill introduced yesterday by Representatives Hayes and Kahn of California.

California passed legislation along this line. The invasion is threatened from the Hawaiian Islands, the fly's native habitat, and fruit brought from there carries the larvae which flourishes in the California climate.

PLACENTIA
Orange Co., Cal.

You don't pioneer when you move to Placentia. That stage of this new packing and shipping town was past six months ago.

With the building of the Santa Fe's new main line east through the famous Placentia district, Placentia Townsite came into existence as a business center for this thickly settled and wealthy community. The orange growers built five large packing houses to handle the production. (Three more packing house sites have been procured.)

Placentia today, twenty-six miles from Los Angeles is a thriving go-ahead town with all city conveniences, such as bank, hotels, large stores, newspaper, lumber yard, garage, etc.

Placentia will not stay a town; that is inexpressive of its future. Placentia, the center of a district equal to Riverside and Redlands, must be a city. Already there are over a thousand people dependent on Placentia as a distributing point, which makes for active business.

An ideal climate, beautiful surroundings, good water, and plenty of work in all lines, produce perfect living conditions. Placentia offers unexcelled opportunities for Merchandising, Home-making or Investment.

REMEMBER

Placentia Townsite is over one-half sold out. Yet you can still buy at the original prices and on the original terms.

Let us show you both the Possibilities and the Actualities at Placentia. Do not select land for a home or investment until you have seen Placentia.

On Wednesday, Jan. 3, the Commercial High School and the Orange County Business College were visited by Raymond P. Kelley of New York, manager of the school department of the Remington Typewriter Co., and Parker C. Woodson, of Chicago, the 17-year-old expert typewriter operator, who gave an excellent demonstration of the touch system.

At the high school, with unfamiliar matter, his record was as follows: 89 words a minute with no errors, copying from the Spanish language; 90 words a minute, with no errors, with a handkerchief spread over the keyboard; 109 words a minute, with no errors, while carrying on a conversation; 104 words a minute while adding a problem of 5 figures square, with one error in each, in typing and addition.

With familiar matter he operated his machine at the rate of 12 letters per second for 60 seconds, or at the rate of 233 words per minute.

Similar fine records were made at the business college.

The Commercial High School is starting upon the new year with continued prosperity. Among those who have recently enrolled are Geo. Menzies, Hattie Shaw, Ralph Best, and Iva Carl.

Tells of Missionary Work Done in China

As an exposition of the kind of work being done by American missionaries in China, the following report is interesting. It is the report of E. H. Munson, son of C. R. Munson of North Main street, Santa Ana. E. H. Munson is associate secretary of Y.M.C.A. work at Foochow, China. His report to the American Y.M.C.A. follows:

1. Those who have watched the rapid growth of the Foochow Association work from its inception, recognize that this past year has been one of redoubled vigor and far extended outreach in its influence among the most influential men of this great provincial capital. To one who is spending his first year in China there comes an overwhelming conviction that God has placed before the association an open door of opportunity such as never existed in previous ages of Christian progress. It seems almost impossible to imagine a more favorable time to advance upon the still unconquered evils of China. It would be difficult to discover a field of greater service than is offered by Foochow, the provincial capital of the Fukien province.

2. The greatest visible result of this year's work is in the not only favorable attitude toward, but even active co-operation in all phases of the association work, taken by the leading students in the government schools, the most influential compradores, business men, officers and members of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, Reform Society, many prominent professional men, journalists and officials from the lowest even up to and including the Tartar General and Viceroy. This increased interest has manifested itself in a much larger attendance at the Saturday evening lectures. During 1910 the attendance at these lectures reached a total of 6080. During the first three months of the fiscal year there had been already between 5000 and 6000 at these lectures. A much larger number of the gentry and influential men of the city and province have been regular visitors at the building. Many of the leading families of the city are now sending their boys to the Young Men's Christian Association day school. The education phase of our work has contributed its share also toward a closer fellowship between the secretaries, both native and foreign, and the men of education, wealth and influence. Although the number of students in the day school has not had a large increase, yet, the grade of work done by them has been much higher. A full five years' course of study has been put into operation and next year will witness our first commencement exercises from this course.

3. This favorable attitude and active co-operation on the part of the leading Chinese of the city and province reached a fitting climax to the year's work in the financial campaign for $45,000 Mexican. This was for the purpose of providing lots for two modern association buildings, one for the Nantai branch and one for the city association proper. When North America gave $45,000 gold for buildings and attached the conditions that at least $25,000 Mexican must be secured from the Chinese of Foochow before June 1, 1911, they made conditions which seemed out of the realm of the possible in the minds of the Chinese officers and directors of the association. A campaign for $25,000 Mexican meant that we must include all current expenses for the next two years at least, for it would not be possible to make another call for funds before that time. Then when the campaign expenses and a small deficit on last year's budget were added, we found a total of not less than $45,000 Mexican would be necessary to meet these expenses and buy two lots, suitable in size and location for modern association buildings.

The obstacles were not a few. The majority of the missionaries said: "It is impossible to secure that amount in so short a time in China." During 1910 eighteen Chinese banks in the city had failed. The manager of our largest foreign bank said: "I don't want to discourage you, but in the face of this financial depression you are attempting the impossible." The leading foreign citizen and business man in the part expressed his complete surprise at "the unheard of attempt to raise $45,000 in one month for a Christian enterprise in a non-Christian city like Foochow."

In the face of tremendous opposition and discouraging conditions, God led the way into what proved to be (as the oldest missionaries afterwards stated) "one of the greatest victories for Christian forces in Fokien Province during the fifty years of missionary endeavor." Mr. Robinson's scientific lectures had an almost incredible attracting power among the men of influence through out the city. Dr. Hu, the Chinese chairman of the executive committee, showed a wholehearted and realized. To him is due the credit for the entire into the three wealthiest families of the city. His guidance and wisdom, coupled with the unflinching endeavor and faithful co-operation of Mr. Cio, the senior Chinese secretary, the wholehearted loyalty and support given by about fifty of the leading business men and gentry of the city—these forces, in coalition with the unmistakable leadership of God, resulted in a growing faith, as the month drew near its close, that the efforts of all would be crowned with victory. After the third interview with Mr. Ling, Foochow's wealthiest timber merchant one of the secretaries had the privilege of taking a snap shot of him signing a subscription for $10,000 Mexican for the campaign fund. No sooner had he thus committed himself and his means to the movement, than he immediately began to actively co-operate in reaching other men of wealth. Within a short time two other well-to-do business men pledged $5000 each. The provincial government officials in the face of political unrest and threatened famine, gave us prestige before the whole city by pledging $5000. A new precedent for Chinese business men in giving was established when each of the large business guilds, such as timber, tea, silk, bankers, doctors and cloth, united in a form of team work seldom witnessed even in America, by not only giving individually, but as guilds pledging sums ranging from $500 to $2000. By 10 p.m. on the evening of June 1, 1911, the allotted sum of $45,000 Mexican had been pledged. After the campaign closed pledges continued to come in until about $48,000 was attained. God's sure and certain leadership made the "impossible" a reality.

4. The provincial student conference had representatives from twelve student centers. For the first time in the history of Fukien student work, one of the government schools had a representative at this conference. The deep spiritual note struck at this time was the forerunner of the large enrollment in Bible study—almost 500 students throughout the province. After a month of intense prayer and Bible study propaganda on the part of the leading Christian students, an eight day series of evangelistic meetings was conducted by Rev. G. Sherwood Eddy, among the mission colleges. This resulted in 157 definite decisions to lead a Christian life among the students. Among these were leaders in each of the college and preparatory classes. In Foochow college a native teacher was converted. This teacher, who is a recent graduate of the school and very influential among the students, has just gained the victory in a long mental and spiritual struggle between Confucianism and Christianity. Of the ninety boys in Foochow college who gave their hearts to Christ, over fifty have non-Christian parents. Many of them will meet with most bitter opposition in the homes. In the Anglo-Chinese college as a result of Eddy's meetings, forty students entered the church on probation.

5. An entrance was gained into the leading government provincial college and for the first time in the history of the school the hall in which Confucius is worshipped twice a month was turned over to a service of a Christian organization.

The seven or eight thousand government school students of Foochow present an open door for Christian work. Previous to this time no Christian organization has been able to gain an entrance into any of the ten large government colleges. However, quite a number of these students have attended the Sunday afternoon lectures at the city Young Men's Christian Association. About forty have been in Bible classes conducted by the foreign government school teachers. Several of the students and teachers have become members of the Association, although as yet the equipment has little to attract them. The presidents and directors of the various schools have become real friends of the association. At the recent gathering of the teachers of the technical school at the association building, five of the leading Chinese teachers joined the association. The campaign of friendship and Christian helpfulness continues to be extended. Aid is given as in previous years, for the purpose of securing foreign teachers for these schools. One American, an electrical engineer, of strong Christian character, has recently been added to the teaching staff of the engineering school.

6. The doors of opportunity for service to the thousands of students, to the members of the provincial parliament, lawyers, doctors, officials, clerks, business men, in fact, all classes of young men of this city of 1,000,000 people, are now wide open. For such an opportunity to be neglected is worse than treason. As fast as the secretaries on the field obtain a working knowledge of the language, and the buildings already planned for shall be erected, then and only then shall we be in a position to reap the harvest for the Kingdom.

7. I have been on the field almost eleven months. Of this time I have had six months for language study. Four months were given to the association work and one month vacation. Although I have only had six months for language study, I will soon be ready for the final examination on the first year's work. I have followed the course of study as outlined by our language committee last year. Last spring I gave special time to physical training among the day students, also taught one beginning English class each day and conducted a Bible class on Sunday. I also had charge of arrangements for the weekly lectures during part of the year.

Attendance at committee meetings, directors' meetings, numerous calls on members and work among business and professional men, members of the provincial parliament and officials during the financial campaign—these have given an acquaintance with the real Chinese and especially our own constituency such as would not have been secured had full time been given to language study this first year.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Vegetables generally were the feature of the market. It has only been within the past several days that the frosts of last week began to have an effect on the market. Yesterday was marked by a decided advance in quotations along this line. Cabbages, tomatoes and carrots, vegetables which were unprotected from the frost, were the hardest hit. Tomatoes sold yesterday for 90 cents to $1.25 a lug box. Carrots were up to $1.25 a sack and green beans were selling at a trifle over 12 cents a pound. Indications are that quotations on all green vegetables will soar, due to a heavy outside demand and producers being hard hit at this season. Two cars of Mexican tomatoes were received. They were consigned to the Klein Produce Company, and put on the market at $2.00 a lug box. These are the first Mexican tomatoes of the season and they attracted considerable attention on account of their excellent quality. They came from the State of Sonora, in Old Mexico. Practically all the outdoor cucumbers have been harvested. Hot-house cucumbers sold anywhere at $1.00 to $2.00 a dozen, according to size.

The egg market advanced 1 cent on local stock yesterday. Case counts went to 33 cents and candled to 37 cents a dozen. The market was steady at these figures. Some storage stock sold, but at considerable discount, with local selling freely at the lower figures. Arrivals were 178 cases. Butter receipts were 22,132 pounds. The market was firm to steady at prevailing quotations. Creamery extra was the best seller at 36 1/2 cents. There was a good movement of ladle butter at 25 cents a pound.

The cheese market was firm under the revised figures of the previous day. Northern fresh cheese moved well at 17 1/2 cents. Eastern stock was in good demand. Receipts were 438 pounds.

Outside shipments of potatoes were heavy. There was no change noted in quotations the stock moving out at prevailing figures. Sacramento River stock received the bulk of attention, due to lower prices and the excellent quality of the spuds. Receipts of spuds were 1554 sacks.

Notwithstanding the liberal arrivals of onions—920 sacks being reported in the market was in good shape. Among the arrivals were a few sacks of white wax onions which were held at $3.50 a hundredweight. Australian browns and yellow Danvers sold at $2.00.

The dried bean market was firm. Only 3 sacks were reported in. The top price of $2.75 a hundredweight was firmly upheld on sweet potatoes. The market was in good shape. Arrivals were 166 sacks.

There was a fair passing trade in fresh fruits: 41 boxes of apples came in from the north. Grapes were in fair call, from $2.00 to $2.50 a lug box. Oranges were inclined to be weak. Fancy navels sold around $2.50 a box.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT
DID NOT LIKE HIS RECORD
After Prisoner Heard Constable He Wished He Had Not Asked Question

Leroy Russell made a mistake this morning when his preliminary examination was held in Justice Cox's court. He thought Constable Jackson was ignorant of Russell's doings, and he dared Jackson to tell what he knew. Jackson told Russell was surprised and startled. He was also scared for fear he was on the road to the pen. After Jackson had spoken, Russell was sorry. He wanted to strike it from the record, but the justice would not let him.

Russell was on preliminary examination for stealing a motorcycle from Henry Seidel, Seidel and Jackson testified to trailing the motorcycle from Seidel's home to the West Orange school house, where it was found in the school house. Russell was asleep near-by.

"Is that all you know that makes you think I stole that motorcycle?" asked Russell of Jackson.

"No, that is not all," said the constable, "but the other matters are not involved in this case."

"If you know anything more, go ahead and tell it."
Jackson proceeded. He said the sprocket and pedals on Russell's bicycle were stolen from Charles Woodruff of Orange, and were positively identified. A wrench and other tools stolen from A. J. Klunk at Orange were in Russell's possession. Other articles found in Russell's possession were shown to have been stolen.

When Jackson was about half through, Russell interrupted, and wanted to strike it all from the record. Justice Cox refused. Russell was held for trial in the superior court.

Preliminary Set
The preliminary examination of Mike Cervantes, charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon Joe Silvas, was set today by Justice Cox for Jan. 16 at 10 o'clock. Cervantes and Silvas got into a row over a woman.

AT THE COURT HOUSE
FOUND GUILTY AS CHARGED
Anaheim Man to Be Sentenced Tuesday For Crime Against Little Girl

Louis J. Eastland of Anaheim was found guilty yesterday afternoon of a felony committed against Ada Tripp, a 7-year-old girl at Anaheim. The girl qualified as a witness and told a straightforward story, remarkably clear in its innocence. The man is to be sentenced next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

To Be a Citizen
Frank J. Villèle of Newport Beach has applied for final letters of citizenship. The hearing is set for May 6. Villèle is a native of France. He came to this country in 1890. Witnesses who have known him five years are Albert Hermes and L. H. Wallace, both of Newport Beach.

For the Plaintiff
Yesterday afternoon Judge West gave judgment for the plaintiff in the suit of A. G. Williams, a Placencia rancero, against J. W. Dickenson, an Anaheim automobile dealer. Williams had a second-hand Jackson automobile, which he turned over to Dickenson on a tentative deal for a new Oakland. Dickenson sold the Jackson for $400. Williams bought a Corbin instead of an Oakland. Dickenson held that the trade with the Jackson had gone far enough to be an agreement on Williams' part to agree to buy an Oakland. Williams sued for the price received for the Jackson, and got judgment, less commission and repairs. J. C. Stick was attorney for the plaintiff and Weissel & Dutton for the defendant.

Lien Is Recorded
A mechanic's lien for $81.75 was recorded today by Byron B. Locke, a carpenter, against Edna A. Newlin for work done on a house near Anaheim.

Try Tom Crane
This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Thomas Crane of Logan street, is to be tried on a charge of being an habitual drunkard. He may be sent to the asylum at Patton for the treatment of inebriates.

CONFEREES CANNOT AGREE ON DIRECT ELECTION BILL
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—All hope of agreement between conferees of the two houses of congress on the resolution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people has vanished. The conferees have reached the conclusion that an agreement would be impossible and a report to that effect is expected next week.

The difference between the House and the Senate conferees is based on a question of congressional supervision. As passed by the House, the resolution placed the control of senatorial elections in the hands of state legislatures. The Senate amended the resolution, leaving the control in the hands of congress.

CANADIANS SEEK THIS SUMMER LAND
Railroads Report Bookings For Big Rush to California From Frozen East

Los Angeles Examiner. A special car of thirty-four passengers, all prominent residents of Winnipeg, Manitoba, will arrive here Saturday morning on the Los Angeles Limited of the Salt Lake Route. The party is made up of bankers, professional and business men of the Canadian city, and they will remain in Los Angeles and vicinity the rest of the winter.

This car of tourists is the first to come from the far North since the Salt Lake Route started its agencies to work in that section advertising Los Angeles as a winter resort, and it is expected to be followed at regular intervals by other special parties from the same section.

The Santa Fe general passenger department reports tremendous bookings for the west-bound trains for the next month, and in addition to running the limited train from Chicago in two sections each day, it is probable another extra train will be put on within the next two weeks to accommodate the rush from the snow-bound East.

Other Parties Coming
F. E. Baltus, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific Company, went East to arrange for the prompt handling of the big rush of tourists which is headed this way over his line, and District Passenger Agent F. C. Lathrop is taking care of the inquiries and details of the business at this end of the route.

The west-bound Southern Pacific de luxe train from New Orleans, due here at 8:45 p.m. Saturday, is loaded with tourists from the Middle West and Central states. This train, a personally conducted excursion, is becoming one of the most popular in the transcontinental list, and bookings are made in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago and St. Louis weeks in advance.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

REAL THING IN SEA DRAMA FOR MOVING PICTURE SHOW CO.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 5.—A party of actors and actresses, while preparing for a thrilling sea drama for cinematograph shows, had a taste of the real thing. They chartered a steamer at Lemvig and cruised along the coast. In order to get the right setting for a shipwreck scene they approached close to the shore. The camera was busily recording the rescue of the heroine by the hero when a storm arose. For ten hours the steamer struggled to get seaward. A fishing trawler from Lemvig came to the rescue. The actors were taken off, and five minutes later the steamer sank.
